

Candidate Success Story

Laura Thomas

Situation

After returning from travelling, Laura wanted to restart her career but felt nervous about where to begin. She knew she had valuable skills but found interviews overwhelming and needed guidance to rebuild her confidence.

Opportunity

Laura reached out to Success Recruit. Vicki took the time to listen to her experience and aspirations and quickly identified a role that was a strong fit. Through clear communication and tailored interview preparation, Vicki supported Laura at every stage of the process.

THE RESULT

With Vicki's support, Laura successfully relaunched her career and secured a new role as a Data Manager with Taylor Viney Marlow. The client was so impressed by her potential that they created a new position tailored to her skills — a perfect match for both sides!

Testimonial:

*"From the start [Vicki] listened to everything I had achieved so far in my career and went on to matching me with the right job role almost straight away, making the whole process smooth and stress-free for me. Her communication was clear and consistent throughout, and I felt fully supported at every stage. I've always found interviews nerve-racking, however Vicki provided excellent interview prep beforehand and helped me with my confidence. She also checked in with me afterwards and kept in touch until the day I started my new job. The client she matched me with saw so much potential in me that they even created a position to support this!" - Laura Thomas
